Relaunch of Innovative Interactivity

I am excited to announce the relaunch of Innovative Interactivity (II). As you might have read, The University of North Carolina School of Journalism and Mass Communication now publishes II. Tracy Boyer Clark has done a tremendous job developing this website into a community with valuable resources about interactive multimedia, and UNC is proud to continue this great work.

The mission of II is to provide an informative and inspiring forum for journalists and interactive professionals to connect and be more creative.
